"A WEB SITE TO IMPROVE THE LISTENING SKILLS FOR FIFTH GRADE STUDENTS AT ESCUELA DE EDUCACION BASICA EDUCA, SALINAS, PROVINCE OF SANTA ELENA, SCHOOL YEAR 2014 – 2015"

ABSTRACT

Today’s society integrates the use of information and communication technologies (ICTS) and it is precisely in education where technological strategies should be implemented to allow students to consolidate the acquired knowledge and question such knowledge with teachers’ supervision in their role of guides of the process. Listening is a hard skill which could be developed with practice because it is a process. Using web sites is one way to use the technology in the classroom and it is an opportunity to improve the listening skills using it. The present research shows the improvement of the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the “Escuela de Educación Básica EDUCA” through the creation of a web site. As the fundamental base of the research, Google Sites have been used, and additionally, a variety of tools in order to improve the skills mentioned before.

Keywords: Google Site, Web sites, Listening Skills, Audio and Video Sources.
INTRODUCTION

Technology has become an important tool for educators and the Government of Ecuador supports it. Furthermore, web sites are used for several purposes and one of them is the improvement in the English skills.

Listening is a hard skill that people need to practice in order to develop it. A strategy to practice listening for children is to watch videos because they love them.

“Listening for Us” was created to improve the listening skills and it is the opportunity to use the technology with an educational goal.

This research was structured in five chapters, which are divided in:

Chapter I, The Problem, describes the statement of the problem, significance of research, critical analysis, objectives and so on, whose purpose is to become a productive research.

Chapter II, The Theoretical Framework, gives details about preview research, philosophical and legal basis, fundamental categories, hypothesis and variables about this research.

Chapter III, Methodology, explains the methodological strategies in order to get a successful research. This chapter contains levels or type of research, population, sample, techniques and instruments, data collection with the respective analysis and interpretation, conclusion and recommendations.

The Chapter IV, The Proposal, expresses the solution to the problem, the design of the web site, the results and analyses the outcomes of this research

Chapter V, Administrative Framework, details the timetable, resources and budget of this research.
CHAPTER I

THE PROBLEM

1.1 TITLE

"A WEB SITE TO IMPROVE THE LISTENING SKILLS FOR FIFTH GRADE STUDENTS AT ESCUELA DE EDUCACION BASICA EDUCA, SALINAS, PROVINCE OF SANTA ELENA, SCHOOL YEAR 2014 – 2015"

1.2 STATEMENT OF THE PROBLEM

1.2.1 Context

During the last twenty years there has been a huge change in the way technology has greatly influenced the teachers’ lives. These changes have taken time to adapt in education, but teachers have slowly realized the need to adapt the technology to their classes.

In the past, technology was a simple dominant information; at the present time learners have to create and develop contents for a range of purposes, among them we can mention the blogs, forums and wikis. However, children and adolescents are extremely interested in the concept of creating, changing, showcase and sharing with their friends and family everything they like. For this reason the use of technology is very important.

On the other hand, Listening Comprehension plays a very important role in language acquisition. In 1970, little was known of how to develop this skill; but not long ago, listening was not considered as a separate skill. Fortunately, the role of listening in English language teaching has expanded, thus having its own characteristics, being a complex skill with an active process.

In Ecuador, public and private institutions have non-native speakers as English teachers. Most of them are being prepared for the First Certificate in English (FCE EXAM), based on the Common European Framework, which is an important requirement for English teaching in the country. Furthermore, The Province of Santa Elena has many institutions that are applying technology to improve the teaching are learning process. They are using internet, laboratories, virtual libraries, etc., where students have access to web pages to do online exercises and develop the four language skills reading, listening, writing and speaking. Based on these premises, it is considered that at Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA” the use of technology can contribute to develop the English language during the teaching-learning process in the classroom.

1.2.2 Critical Analysis

There are many problems for students when they want to learn English or improve their linguistic abilities. A specific group of student was studying English two years ago at Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA” where teachers used different methods to teach. As a result of this research, this group has difficulties in the Listening Skill. The lack of time and proper guidance from the instructors make them unmotivated to continue with their language course and as a consequence they never learn the English language.

Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA”, is an institution located in Salinas in working towards Bilingual Education and where its vision is aimed at the use of technology tools for the Teaching-Learning Process. In addition, students have access to technology such as ipods, ipads, tablets, laptops, including the latest video games and consoles.

This project aims to take advantage of this vision and the technological gadgets that fifth grade students possess. The research attempts to improve the listening skill by creating a web site specialized in the organization, systematization of the listening activities, according to the needs and level of the learners in this school year 2014 – 2015.
1.2.3 Problem formulation

Will the implementation of a web site help the fifth grade students of the Escuela de Educación Básica EDUCA improve their listening skills?

1.2.4 Guideline questions

- What are Information and Communication Technologies (ICTs)?
- What is the GOOGLE SITE?
- What is a web site?
- Which are listening skills?
- Is it necessary to implement a web site to improve the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA”?

1.2.5 Problem Limitation

- FIELD: Education.
- AREA: English.
- ASPECT: Listening skills using a web site.
- TITLE: "A WEB SITE TO IMPROVE THE LISTENING SKILLS FOR FIFTH GRADE STUDENTS AT ESCUELA DE EDUCACION BASICA EDUCA, SALINAS, PROVINCE OF SANTA ELENA, SCHOOL YEAR 2014 – 2015"
● PROBLEM: The lack in the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Básica “EDUCA”

● TIME LIMITATION: The research will be held during the academic year 2014-2015.

● POPULATION LIMITATION: Fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

● SPACE LIMITATION: Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

● CONTEXT LIMITATION: This research will be focused on the influence of the web sites as a technological resource to improve the Listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

1.3 SIGNIFICANCE

The internet contains many resources where children, adolescents and the general public have access to several information, but websites do not teach by themselves. Teachers should explain how to use this tool for a specific purpose, in order to potentiate the knowledge.

Why is it that teachers are afraid of changing, especially if the environment is involved in technology? In this 21st century, many changes have affected in a positive way many fields, including EDUCATION. Most students are enrolled in at least one social network or in Facebook, Twitter, Badoo, and even use blogs where they write and share personal information.

Students know how the teacher communicates and understand when the teacher speaks; but when they find a native speaker ask themselves: “Why can’t I understand him/her?”. This is one of the reasons why the creation of a Web site will allow the student to find a specific place where they can develop listening exercises with different accents like: American English, British English, and Australian English, where the pronunciation has a slight difference.

Furthermore, the Web site will have listening activities by levels. Fifth grade at Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA” has 15 students, who are divided into three levels: A (High Level), B (Intermediate Level) and C (Pre-Intermediate) takes into account the standard of Common European Framework (CEF). The activities are not the same for each level because the levels of students are different. Most important is that the student will relate known videos for them, dialogues from native speakers and gradually they will develop listening skills with different dialects, accents and intonation.

1.4 OBJECTIVES

1.4.1 General Objective of the research

● To analyze the importance of the implementation of a web site to improve the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the “Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

1.4.2 Specific Objectives of the research

● To identify advantages of using web sites in the classroom.

● To establish the theoretical and methodological framework to create a web site.

● To classify the listening activities that will be part in this web site.

● To design and implement the structure of the web site of listening skills.
Difficulties in the Listening Skill of the fifth grade students at Escuela de Educación Básica EDUCA

CAUSES
- EDUCA does not have a website to develop this skill
- English teachers do not have learning environments based on the use of technology
- Traditional English classes

EFFECTS
- Classes without technological resources
- Students cannot use the technology to develop the listening skill
- Low English level
CHAPTER II

THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK

2.1 PREVIOUS RESEARCH

English is one of the most spoken languages around the world. For this reason some professionals in education have created projects to improve skills. Information and Communication Technologies (ICT) are helping educators to develop these projects.

Nowadays, the use of technology has facilitated the work of English teachers in order to improve language skills, and that people can appreciate what they have done in other countries. The results have been remarkably changing because the student is motivated to investigate further.
2.1.1 PROJECTS AROUND THE WORLD

There are situations in Malaysia, Colombia, and Hong Kong as examples for mentioning.

2.1.1.1 MALAYSIA

The School of Educational Studies in the University Sains Malaysia created a method to improve the listening comprehension in Preschool Children using Digital Stories. This project was developed in 2011 in a school located in Penang, Malaysia. The Internet-Based Technology was the tool to improve listening comprehension. The conclusion was focused in the results. Preschool students improved the listening comprehension because the Digital Stories promoted concentration on the oral input reception.

2.1.1.2 COLOMBIA

Colombia Government’s goal is to focus on the “Plan Nacional de Bilinguismo”. It expresses that each secondary school graduates will have a B1 Level by 2019. In this country some professionals are developing some projects in order to improve some English skills as listening and reading.

2.1.1.3 HONG KONG

Hong Kong, the first changes began in the classroom itself – new technologies such as overhead projectors, interactive whiteboards, laptop computers and wireless internet have opened up the classroom to the outside world. Teachers who spent their lives managing with a textbook, a tape recorder and a blackboard are now adept at using PowerPoint to present grammar, playing podcasts to practice listening skills, pulling texts off the world wide web to introduce reading skills and perhaps most ground-breaking of all – empowering students by giving them access to a wide range of web-based tools that allow them to publish work and engage with live audiences in real contexts.
2.1.2 INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGIES (ICT)

Educators wonder why ICT became a tool in a very short time. The answer is found by looking at the range of activities, methods, techniques that the internet provides that are adapted in the schedules of each teacher.

PERE, Marques. (2011) indicates the following:

“Computer programs are those created for the specific purpose of being used as a teaching tool, i.e. to facilitate the teaching and learning”. (p.4)

PERE tries to explain that what is on the internet can be very broad and often unsubstantiated things, but one teacher explores each page with the intention of using it as a teaching tool that helps in the ENGLISH LEARNING PROCESS in this case. There are many links you can access to practice listening and for that reason are chosen according to the needs, age of students, among other factors.

Ricardo, C. T. (2012), emphasizes the following in an Act of Conference:

“ICTs have features of a constructive learning environment as the stakes allow experimentation and problem solving, involving the student in the learning project and generate autonomous environments”. (p.286)

Autonomous environments indicate how the students without a teacher are looking for enriching their own information. This is due to the ease given to the student, the dynamism and creativity with which web pages have been created.
2.1.3 WEB SITES

Web sites direct education towards learning technology benefits considering that it is a very practical tool with great accessibility. The Ecuadorian Government has promoted the use of ICTs in the classroom, where the professor looks for tools on the internet in order to obtain material to be used as reinforcement.

The internet has a lot of tools which the teacher uses, but a Web site does not teach in isolation. Nothing gives specific instructions or how somebody has to do some exercises. Teachers must learn how to manage such resources for the student understanding and they know what they really should learn.

A Web site is a collection of files in a web page. One of them could be compared with a book where some items of study in this case be reviewed by the students there. This type of file has text, images, audio and video files, but also has links to other pages related to the same topic.

Nelson Mandela said "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." Our world is involved everywhere by technology. Education has changed with the use of it, and teachers have to use the tools that the Internet gives them.
2.2 PHILOSOPHICAL BASIS

David Graddol states that Technology involves several aspects as the language of social contexts, even political, business, education, and others.

As Zhang points out in his book “Computer – Assisted Foreign Language Education 3” (2006:11.1) in the Chapter 2: “The development tendency of the modern foreign language teaching and the computer assisted instruction”, that “Multimedia and Network Technology can offer a friendly interface, real pictures and nice sounds that catch the students’ attention while they are working”.

Victor Hugo, a famous critic which his plays were relevant to develop the Romanticism, once said, “Nothing is as powerful as an idea whose time has come”. Technology has come with several methods and techniques which it is involved.

Experts in a Delphi Study guided in the German Education, believe that “The new media lead to a major change in the culture of learning”.

Vandergrift suggested that Listening Comprehension is the core of listening a foreign language. Even that it is a difficult skill, it is the most important to develop the other skills like reading, speaking and writing.
2.3 FUNDAMENTAL CATEGORIES

2.3.1 WEB SITE

A web site is a resource where someone will find a range of authentic content related to a specific topic. All are accessible to students seeking such information or strengthening a task at different levels.

2.3.2 ICT’s

The ICT’s are a set of new tools that store, process and transmit information. This information makes it easier to interact between people. Among the features of ICTs include: Formalism, Interactivity, Dynamism, Multimedia and Hypermedia.

2.3.3 ICTs IN THE EDUCATION FIELD

Nowadays, the use of technology is critical in the teaching-learning process since it has led to changes in the roles of teachers in the design and development of curriculum teaching strategies.

This type of technology in education has opened new models which allows students to develop an independent, active and dynamic work, with access to a range of activities.

The tools offered are: Weblogs, Wiki and Web quest. They are edu-communication tools that increase the skills of teachers and students, in addition to the construction of knowledge.

The youth of today are born into a digital world where you expect to be able to: create, design, consume, mix and share.
2.3.4 GOOGLE SCHOLAR AND ACADEMIC LIBRARIES

Google Scholar is a web-based scholarly search engine where people can find information in the academic libraries that it has. Google Scholar has exclusive material about projects that professionals have implemented around the world.

Google Academic restricts your search to books that have reliability, they are serious research, scientific articles, and journals on some issues and retrieve information on citations, abstracts and full text.
2.3.4.1. GOOGLE SCHOLAR AND ITS COMPONENTS

- DATE: If you need to restrict information or something happened recently you can tell from that date the item is needed and to obtain a more thorough search.

- LANGUAGE: You can set the language in which the information is needed.

- QUOTES: While the information is obtained you can see upcoming appointments of that particular document, which is very valuable since quotes are evidence of reliability.

- RELATED ARTICLES: If it is a valuable and important article, Google will recommend to relate this document that may be helpful items.

- DOCUMENT TYPE: You can see what kind of document is a webpage, PDF, Word, before deciding to open it.

- FORMAT: Google provides the formats in APA, MLA style, they can be used and in turn give credibility to the author of such appointment or document.

- ALERT: Is to create a search engine and associate it with a mail account to reach them by email a notice which tells any document related to the search.

- LIBRARY: You can collect documents in order to access them faster and more safely.

2.3.5. GOOGLE SITE

Google Site is the application of Google Apps for business that allows creating Web sites for your business. The information is stored and organized in a central location and is always available to users. Google Site works from any electronic device such as tablets, laptops and desktop computers with Internet. Also works with any operating system either PC or MAC.

Google sites allow the creation of dynamic web pages with templates quickly and without decoding or html format. Creating a page is as easy as creating a document. This technology allows the use of different platforms where activities are views of different ways. Besides, before someone only view text files or tables individually, rather the users can share the same platform or be shared in a social network. Nowadays, with the advance of the Internet it has been left aside the traditional method where the teacher becomes a mediator in the process of student learning.

2.3.6. LISTENING SKILLS.

It is one of the most important communication skills. Having a good ear in English is something that takes time but with constant work can improve this difficult skill.

2.3.6.1. TYPES OF LISTENING

2.3.6.1.1. INFORMATIVE LISTENING

Informative Listening or Listening to Understand, is the most common because it is found in all areas. When people can listen to instructions, reports and speeches, it is informative listening. There are three keys related with Informative Listening: Vocabulary, Concentration and Memory.

2.3.6.1.2. RELATIONSHIP LISTENING

Relationship Listening is useful to improve the relationship between people. There are three key behaviors to have an effective listening: Attending, Supporting and Empathizing.
2.3.6.1.3. APPRECIATIVE LISTENING

Appreciative Listening includes Listening to music for enjoyment. The quality of this type of listening depends on three factors: Presentation, Perception and Previous Experience.

2.3.6.1.4. CRITICAL LISTENING

Critical Listening is used by Politicians, the media, salesmen. There are three factors to keep in mind: Speaker credibility, Logical Arguments and Psychological Appeals.

2.3.6.1.5. DISCRIMINATIVE LISTENING

Discriminative Listening is another relevant type. It includes some changes that involves the speaker like emphasis. There are three factors to consider: Hearing Ability, Awareness of Sound structure, and Integration of Non Verbal Clues.

2.5 HYPOTHESIS

A web site using Google Sites will improve the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

2.6 VARIABLES OF STUDY

2.6.1. Dependent Variable

The listening skills.

2.6.2. Independent Variable

A web site.
CHAPTER III

METHODOLOGY

3.1 RESEARCH APPROACH

The aim of this research paper will be based on qualitative methodology; these methods will allow the obtaining of specific results about the improvement of the listening skills of the Fifth Grade Students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

3.1.1 Qualitative Method

This project will use the qualitative method, in order to gather information about the uses of Web sites to teach listening, the researcher will interview several professionals and specialists: professionals, the principal, teachers and students.

This method will be used for this PROJECT in order to collect data related to the use of a Web Site by the Fifth Grade Students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

3.1.2 Inductive-deductive Method

This paper will use both approaches inductive and deductive. For the deductive method first of all the needed information about uses of Web sites to teach listening was gathered, analyzed, contrasted between authors and the results respectively, and finally simplified for the project. In contrast to the inductive method the researchers started with small observations to make assumptions about the improvement of the listening skills of the Fifth Grade Students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.
3.1.3 Scientific Method

This method will show the real improvement of the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA” using a web site.

3.1.4 Observation Method

This method will help to find detailed information about causes and effects of the problem related to the use of a web site to improve the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

3.2 LEVEL OR TYPE OF RESEARCH

3.2.1 Field Research

It will be important the use of the technology in the English teaching process to improve the listening skills regarding the implementation of a web site during the next school year 2015. It will be applied in fifth grade students who show the consequences and weakness involved in the problem.

3.2.2 Bibliographic Research

It will allow for searching and selecting scientific-theoretical foundations on the subject of investigation; the key topics are related to the uses of web sites and ICT in the primary education field.

3.2.3 Correlational Research

This method will measure the degree of relationship between the stated problem (The improvement of the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”) and the proposal (The use of a web site created).
3.2.4 Applied Research

This type of research will allow the use of a website in order to improve the listening skills of the fifth grade students from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

3.3 POPULATION AND SAMPLE

3.3.1 Population

The population of this research is composed by all the 15 students of the fifth grade from the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

3.5 TECHNIQUES AND INSTRUMENTS FOR DATA COLLECTION

3.5.1 Techniques

The following techniques will be applied during this research: Survey and Interview

3.5.1.1 Survey

This technique will be applied to collect precise data through direct questions regarding the problem and the proposed solution. It will allow getting results about the advantages of the creation of a Web site to improve listening skills to fifth grade students from Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”.

3.5.1.2 Interview

This technique will be used to obtain direct information from the principal of EDUCA and Professionals. From the first interviewed person it will be possible to know the use of technologies and web sites in Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA” and from the professionals, it will be possible to compare the use of the Technology and web sites in the education field to teach English.

3.5.2 Instruments

3.5.2.1 Camera, video - camera

This instrument will be used to capture images and videos in order to reproduce them later and have evidence of the implementation of a web site.
3.5.2.2 Notebook

This instrument will be used to take notes of the different activities developed throughout this research. The activities are: the most relevant part from interviews, the observations from surveys, drafting of some listening activities.

3.5.2.3 Questionnaire

It is a document with several questions which was elaborated to get information about the stated problem.

3.6 DATA COLLECTION PLAN

The data collection plan was done according to the surveys and interviews. Mathematical calculations and statistical charts were done in order to present this research paper.

<td>Once the problem was confirmed in the Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”, surveys and interviews were made (survey for students and English teachers and interviews for principal, and specialists), these were analyzed in order to develop a proposal to solve the stated problem.</td>
<td>Using all the collected data that proved the low scores in listening practice of fifth grade students from Escuela de Educacion Basica “EDUCA”, it was important to involve the principal and English teachers in the incoming process in order to improve the listening skills in each student.</td>

3.8 ANALYSIS AND INTERPRETATION OF RESULTS

3.8.1 INTERVIEW DIRECTED TO PRINCIPAL FROM “EDUCA”

Question 1: What are the advantages of using ICTs in the Elementary Education?

INTERPRETATION
The principal said that there are several uses of ICT because teachers need to explain a specific topic with resources from Internet. Furthermore, children can use the Internet to research by themselves.

Question 2: At “EDUCA” the mission includes the use of ICTs in the classrooms, so what is your perspective on society?

INTERPRETATION
The principal said that EDUCA perspective is to implement technology in the children’s lives. They can use their tablets to do some educational activities guided by their teachers.

Question 3: How could technology become an important factor in Bilingual Education?

INTERPRETATION
The principal said Internet is joined with educational information to use in class, where teacher and students share it and find new knowledge in the English learning process.

Question 4: Do you consider that a web site is an excellent tool in the English teaching process?
INTERPRETATION
The principal thought web sites are excellent tools in the English teaching process because they were created with this purpose. The education has been innovated with these advantages.

Question 5: Do you support the implementation of a web site to improve the listening skills in the “EDUCA” students?

INTERPRETATION
The principal expressed that she agrees with this implementation at EDUCA to improve the listening skills in the students.
3.8.2 INTERVIEW DIRECTED TO INTERVIEW SPECIALISTS

Question 1: How technology is used in our country?

All the specialists stated that the implementation of new and improved technology resources is providing a better quality of life for its inhabitants, because the recent features of many devices help in teaching process with some apps, one example: The long-distance communication, using the Internet can reach more remote places and the communication is immediate.

Question 2: What advantages will the students have with the implementation of technology in elementary school?

All the specialists indicated that the benefits would be a lot if it considers important the systematization using computers or other technological devices. Using ICT (Information and Communication Technologies) can develop new methods in Education that achieved to strengthen the process of teaching and learning; virtual classrooms, forums, video conferences are among many tools provided by technology and are applicable to many areas of life, especially in Education at all levels.

Question 3: Do you think the use of web sites could increase the ability or any skill in the students?

One specialist stated that web sites would become a useful tool for students. The rest of specialists indicated that web sites are designed with a specific purpose in the network and this information is taken from books, magazines, etc. Some web sites have been created for educational purposes, they have exercises, presentations, animations and examples of all sorts of topics from different areas of knowledge.
Question 4: What is your suggestion to students in the use of technology?

All specialists stated that technology is a double-edged sword and if it is not used as it should, it can become very dangerous, in this case I think that parents should control both the technological tools that students use, as well as the sources of information to which access and schedules to allocate for that, that in order to prevent students from accessing undue pages, where they receive misinformation, or they fall into the addiction of social networks.

Question 5: What are your suggestions to English teachers in the use of technology?

One specialist indicated that teachers have to continue using it, but are constantly updating and innovating. The rest of specialists stated that technology has to be used as a complementary tool, the teacher can make use of projectors and via internet link to educational sites that reinforce the topics covered in classes as an additional activity; encourage the students the correct and appropriate use of schedules.

4.2 PROPOSAL BACKGROUND

Education has evolved so rapidly that you can now find a toddler with a tablet without having received prior training to use it; technology is very accessible in our era. Traditional libraries, where students went to check information in books of paper and ink, have changed. Virtual libraries, libraries on-line, are examples where through an application from your phone or tablet people can download all the information obtained in the Internet from the comfort of their houses. Web sites for learning languages, reinforce any subject, color pages, play games, meet people around the world, have become tools for people of all ages.

Web sites have generally been a vital tool in the teaching learning process. There are different types of web sites and one of those with the most impact is the educational web sites, because of having results in the cognitive part of learning. Nowadays, teachers are training to acquire technological knowledge to be implemented in their classrooms; one of them is the creation of web sites. In other countries like Germany, Venezuela, Switzerland, technology is the main base of learning with the support of their governments. The Ecuadorian government, in its regulations and favors the use of technology as a requirement for successful education.
Applications, programs, virtual platforms, facilitate the creation of web sites, with diverse activities directed toward students to develop a skill.

4.3 SIGNIFICANCE

This proposal is a significant goal in education in the use of a web site to improve listening skills in students. Web sites are used for multiple purposes, one of them is the students gain excellent results in learning the English language. This project is particularly aimed at fifth grade students from Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA”.

This proposal solves a deficit that students have in the listening skills where they will work on a web site and improve that skill through selected activities, audios aimed at understanding, among other videos activities. Notably fifth grade students work with tablets in classes and manage technology daily. The proposal is in compliance with Article 347 of the Organic Law of Intercultural Education where it holds that teachers should incorporate ICTs in the educational process.

4.4 OBJECTIVES

4.4.1. General Objective

To improve the listening skills by designing and implementing a web site for the fifth grade students from Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA”.

4.4.2. Specific Objectives

- To identify the appropriate activities that will take part in the web site.
- To design the web site using Google Site.
- To implement the web site to the fifth grade students.
- To assess the learning results of the fifth grade students from Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA”.
4.5 DESIGN AND DEVELOPMENT OF THE PROPOSAL

The use a website is an important tool in the development of skills of the fifth grade students from Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA”, city of Salinas, academic year 2014-2015, this project will help students to improve their listening skills.

This web site is based on previously selected videos to interact with the students. They will listen to audios added at the web site and will work with series of activities according to what they see or hear.

4.5.1. What is GOOGLE SITE?

GOOGLE SITE is an application of Google Apps to create free web sites without using a domain. As a requirement to create a Google Site web site is to have a Gmail account.

Illustration 1: Google Site Logo

4.5.2. “LISTENING FOR US” WEB SITE

The web site called “LISTENING FOR US” was created by the author of this proposal. This includes some buttons where the student performs certain activities in coordination with videos and audios. This is the link: https://sites.google.com/site/listeningforkids/
4.5.3 DESCRIPTION OF “LISTENING FOR US” WEB SITE

When the final design of the “LISTENING FOR US” web site was ready, the author proceeds to place five commands at the top:

- Main Page
- Presentation
- Songs and Lyrics
- Video Clips
- Check your Advance!!

4.5.3.1. MAIN PAGE

In this part the students will find the introduction to the web site and it explains the purpose of this project. It has a photo, who is the author’s son, and the icon of the page.
4.5.3.2. PRESENTATION

In this part, there are some photos which students are checking the web site with their tablets. Besides, below the author introduces him and gives some information about his students.
The most relevant part is in the last sentence, and at the end of the page. Students can check their level pressing the word “HERE”.

CHECK YOUR LEVEL. (SEE ATTACHMENT 5: DIAGNOSTIC TEST)

When students press “HERE”, appears another page where they can check their level through doing some activities. They have to download the PDF materials and the MP3 audios. They have to do these activities and give them to the teacher.

4.10 CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

4.10.1 CONCLUSIONS

• Escuela de Educación Básica “EDUCA” does not have a specific web site to develop the listening skills in the classroom in spite of the fact that their own technological resources to access this educative tool.

• It is fundamental the use of the web site created for the students of fifth grade "LISTENING FOR US", considered as a significant factor in the English learning process to improve the listening skills in the classroom.

• The web tool "LISTENING FOR US" implemented in fifth grade students to improve the listening skills had an impact in the development of the cognitive process in them.

• English area colleagues do not have learning environments based on the use of technology.

4.10.2 RECOMMENDATIONS

• The web tool "LISTENING FOR US" should be implemented in higher levels to improve the listening skills in the educational community and develop the Cognitive Process in it.

• The “LISTENING FOR US” web site could be increased with the collaborative work with the rest of English teacher and keep the impact produced.

• English area colleagues should create learning environments based on the use of technology. It achieves to maximize the use of ICTs in creating web pages in English with a variety of levels with reference to the Common European Framework for the development of activities within the classroom.
